

PUBLIC AFFAIRS OFFICE

Fort Benning, GA

(706) 545-2237 / 545-2236

---

FORT BENNING – Colonel Charles W. Durr, Jr. will assume command of the Basic Combat Training Brigade, from Colonel William J. Gallagher during a change of command ceremony at 9 a.m. June 28 on Pomeroy Field.

Durr is a graduate of the University of Florida where he was commissioned as an Infantry second lieutenant through the ROTC program.

His most recent assignment was as the Director for Combat Developments at the U.S. Army Infantry Center.

He and his wife Lt. Col. M'Lynda Sorenson have a 10 year old son, Charles III.

Gallagher and his family are transferring to Headquarters, US Army Europe, Heidelberg, Germany where he will be the chief of the commanding general's initiatives group.

The Basic Combat Training Brigade receives and trains Soldiers to standard in basic combat skills and physical fitness in order to prepare them for advanced individualized training and their first operational assignments

For more information, call 545-2237/3512. On weekends and after duty hours, call 545-2218.

####